

Find the relationship between radius and height of a cylinder that minimizes the surface area for a given volume. Do this with and without Lagrangian multipliers.